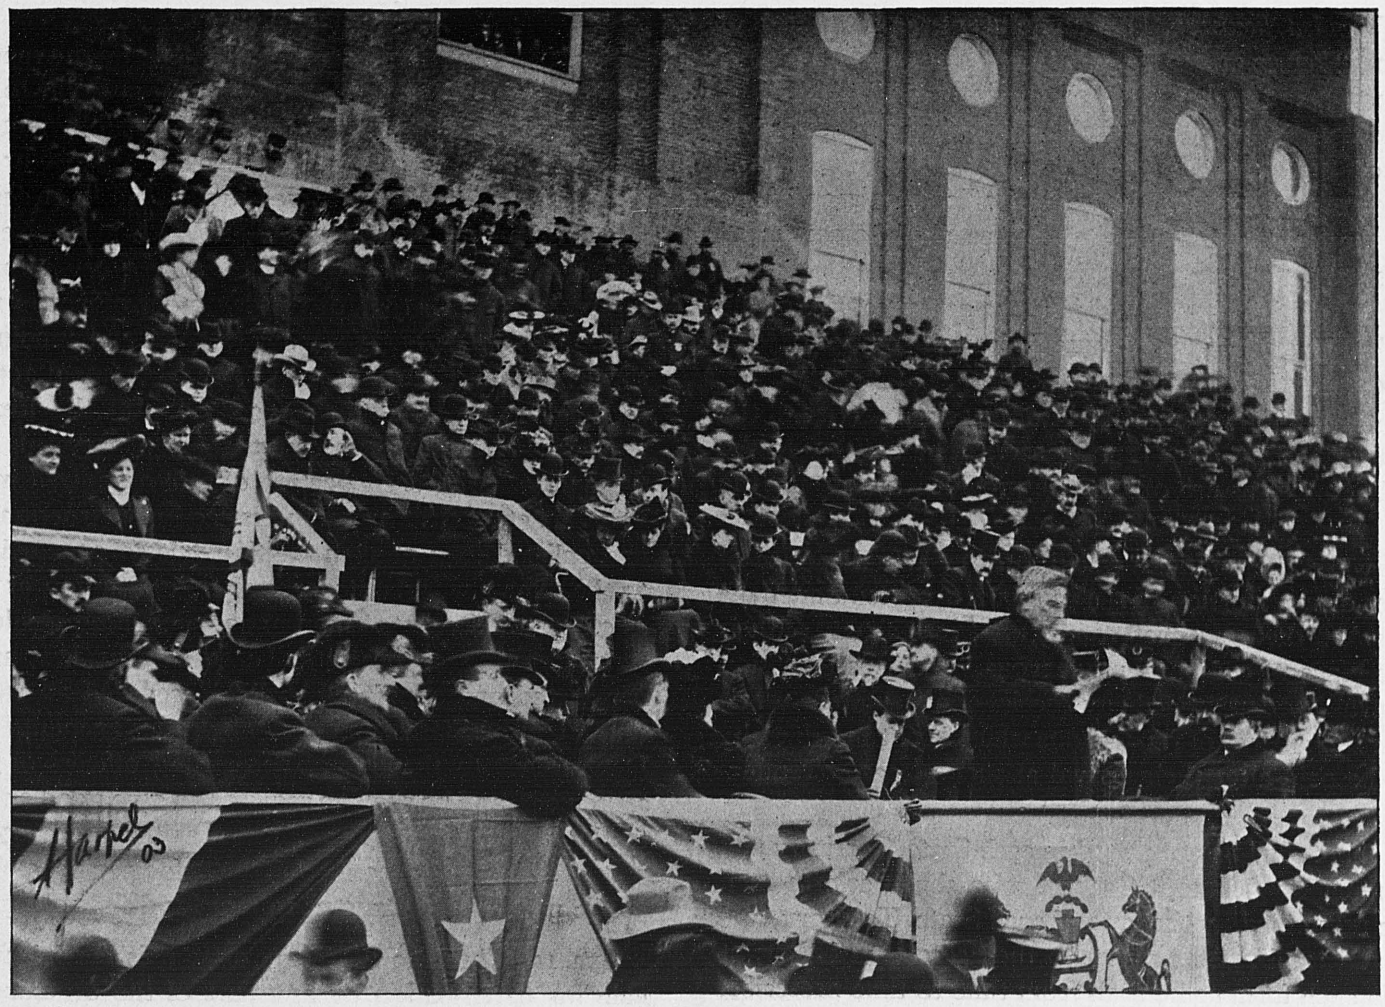
An Act to promote the efficiency of the militia, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the militia shall consist of every able-bodied male citizen of the respective States, Territories, and the District of Columbia, and every able-bodied male of foreign birth who has declared his intention to become a citizen, who is more than eighteen and less than forty-five years of age, and shall be divided into two classes—the organized militia, to be known as the National Guard of the State, Territory, or District of Columbia, or by such other designations as may be given them by the laws of the respective States or Territories, and the remainder to be known as the Reserve Militia.

SEC. 2. That the Vice-President of the United States, the officers, judicial and executive, of the Government of the United States, the members and officers of each House of Congress, persons in the military or naval service of the United States, all custom-house officers, with their clerks, postmasters and persons employed by the United States in the transmission of the mail, ferrymen employed at any ferry on a post road, artificers and workmen employed in the armories and arsenals of the United States, pilots, mariners actually employed in the sea service of any citizen or merchant within the United States, and all persons who are exempted by the laws of the respective States or Territories shall be exempted from militia duty, without regard to age: Provided, That nothing in this Act shall be construed to require or compel any member of any well-recognized religious sect or organization at present organized and existing whose creed forbids its members to participate in war in any form, and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein, in accordance with the creed of said religious organization, to serve in the militia or any other armed or volunteer force under the jurisdiction and authority of the United States.

SEC. 3. That the regularly enlisted, organized, and uniformed active militia in the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia who have heretofore participated or shall hereafter participate in the apportionment of the annual appropriation provided by section sixteen hundred and sixty-one of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended, whether known and designated as National Guard, militia, or otherwise, shall constitute the organized militia. The organization, armament, and discipline of the organized militia battery, signal corps, engineer corps ,and hospital corps: *And pro-*shall be the same as that which is now or may hereafter be prescribed for the Regular and Volunteer Armies of the United States, within five years from the date of the approval of this Act: Provided, That the President of the United States, in time of peace, may by order fix the minimum number of enlisted men in each company, troop, battery, signal corps, engineere corps, and hospital corps: And provided further, That any corps of artillery, cavalry and infantry existing in any of the States at the passage of the Act of May eighth, seventeen hundred and ninety-two, which, by the laws, customs or usages of the said States have been in continuous existence since the passage of said Act under its provisions and under the provisions of Section two hundred and thirty-two and Sections sixteen hundred and twenty-five to sixteen hundred and sixty, both inclusive, of Title sixteen of the revised Statutes of the United States relating to the Militia, shall be allowed to retain their accustomed privileges, subject, nevertheless, to all other duties required by law in like manner as the other Militia.



GOV. PENNYPACKER DELIVERING HIS INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

SEC. 4. That whenever the United States is invaded, or in danger of invasion from any foreign nation, or of rebellion against the authority of the Government of the United States, or the President is unable, with the other forces at his command, to execute the laws of the Union in any part thereof, it shall be lawful for the President to call forth, for a period not exceeding nine months, such number of the militia of the State or of the States or Territories or of the District of Columbia as he may deem necessary to repel such invasion, suppress such rebellion, or to enable him to execute such laws, and to issue his orders for that purpose to such officers of the militia as he may think proper.

SEC. 5. That whenever the President calls forth the militia of any State or Territory or of the District of Columbia to be employed in the service of the United States, he may specify in his call the period for which such service is required, not exceeding nine months, and the militia so called shall continue to serve during the term so specified, unless sooner discharged by order of the President.

SEC. 6. That when the militia of more than one State is called into the actual service of the United States by the President he may, in his discretion, apportion them among such States or Territories or to the District of Columbia according to representative population.

SEC. 7. That every officer and enlisted man of the militia who shall be called forth in the manner hereinbefore prescribed and shall be found fit for military service shall be mustered or accepted into the United States service by a duly authorized mustering officer of the United States: Provided, however, That any officer or enlisted man of the militia who shall refuse or neglect to present himself to such mustering officer upon being called forth as herein prescribed shall be subject to trial by court-martial, and shall be punished as such court-martial may direct.

SEC. 8. That courts-martial for the trial of officers or men of the militia, when in the service of the United States, shall be composed of militia officers only.

SEC. 9. That the militia, when called into the actual service of the United States, shall be subject to the same Rules and Articles of War as the regular troops of the United States.

SEC. 10. That the militia, when called into the actual service of the United States, shall, during their time of service, be entitled to the same pay and allowances as are or may be provided by law for the Regular Army.

SEC. 11. That when the militia is called into the actual service of the United States or any portion of the militia is accepted under the provisions of this Act, their pay shall commence from the day of their appearing at the place of company rendezvous. But this provision shall not be construed to authorized any species of expenditure previous to arriving at such places of rendezvous which is not provided by existing laws to be paid after their arrival at such places of rendezvous.

SEC. 12. That there shall be appointed in each State, Territory and District of Columbia, an Adjutant-General, who shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the laws of such State, Territory, and District respectively, and make returns to the Secretary of War, at such times and in such form as he shall from time to time prescribe, of the strength of the organized militia, and also make such reports as may from time to time be required by the Secretary of War. That the Secretary of War shall, with his annual report of each year, transmit to Congress an abstract of the returns and reports of the adjutants-general of the States, Territories, and the District of Columbia, with such observations thereon as he may deem necessary for the information of Congress.

SEC. 13. That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to issue, on the requisitions of the governors of the several States and Territories, or of the commanding general of the militia of the District of Columbia, such number of the United States standard service magazine arms, with bayonets, bayonet scabbards, gun slings, belts, and such other necessary accouterments and equipments as are required for the Army of the United States, for arming all of the organized militia in said States and Territories and District of Columbia, without charging the cost or value thereof, or any which have been issued since December first, nineteen hundred and one, or any expense connected therewith, against the allotment to said State, Territory, or District of Columbia, out of the annual appropriation provided by section sixteen hundred and sixty-one of the Revised Statutes, as amended, or requiring payment therefor, and to exchange, without receiving any money credit therefor, ammunition, or parts thereof, suitable to the new arms, round for round, for corresponding ammunition suitable to the old arms theretofore issued to said State, Territory, or District by the United States: Provided, That said rifles and carbines and other property shall be receipted for and shall remain the property of the United States and be annually accounted for by the governors of the States and Territories as now required by law, and that each State, Territory, and District shall, on receipt of the new arms, turn in to the Ordnance Department of the United States Army, without receiving any money credit therefor, and without expense for transportation, all United States rifles and carbines now in its possession

To provide means to carry into effect the provisions of this section, the necessary money to cover the cost of exchanging or issuing the new arms, accouterments, equipments, and ammunition to be exchanged or issued hereunder is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 14. That whenever it shall appear by the report of inspections, which it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to cause to be made at least once in each year by officers detailed by him for that purpose, that the organized militia of a State or Territory or of the District of Columbia is sufficiently armed, uniformed, and equipped for active duty in the field, the Secretary of War is authorized, on the requisition of the governor of such State or Territory, to pay to the quartermaster-general thereof, or to such other officer of the militia of said State as the said governor may designate and appoint for the purpose, so much of its allotment out of the said annual appropriation under section sixteen hundred and sixty-one of the Revised Statutes as amended as shall be necessary for the payment, subsistence, and transportation of such portion of said organized militia as shall engage in actual field or camp service for instruction, and the officers and enlisted men of such militia while so engaged shall be entitled to the same pay, subsistence, and transportation or travel allowances as officers and enlisted men of corresponding grades of the Regular Army are or may hereafter be entitled by law, and the officer so designated and appointed shall be regarded as a disbursing officer of the United States, and shall render his accounts through the War Department to the proper accounting officers of the Treasury for settlement, and he shall be required to give good and sufficient bonds to the United States, in such sum as the Secretary of War may direct, faithfully to account for the safe-keeping and payment of the public moneys so intrusted to him for disbursement.

SEC. 15. That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to provide for participation by any part of the organized militia of any State or Territory on the request of the governor thereof in the encampment, maneuvers, and field instruction of any part of the Regular Army at or near any military post or camp or lake or seacoast defenses of the United States. In such case the organized militia so participating shall receive the same pay, subsistence, and transportation as is provided by law for the officers and men of the Regular Army, to be paid out of the appropriation for the pay, subsistence, and transportation of the army: Provided, That the command of such military post or camp and of the officers and troops of the United States there stationed shall remain with the regular commander of the post without regard to the rank of the commanding or other officers of the militia temporarily so encamped within its limits or in its vicinity.

SEC. 16. That whenever any officer of the organized militia shall, upon recommendation of the governor of any State, Territory, or general commanding the District of Columbia, and when authorized by the President, attend and pursue a regular course of study at any military school or college of the United States such officer shall receive from the annual appropriation for the support of the Army the same travel allowances, and quarters, or commutation of quarters, to which an officer of the Regular Army would be entitled if attending such school or college under orders from proper military authority, and shall also receive commutation of subsistence at the rate of one dollar per day while in actual attendance upon the course of instruction.

SEC. 17. That the annual appropriation made by section sixteen hundred and sixty-one, Revised Statutes, as amended, shall be available for the purpose of providing for issue to the organized militia any stores and supplies or publications which are supplied to the Army by any department. Any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia may, with the approval of the Secretary of War, purchase for cash from the War Department, for the use of its militia, stores, supplies, material of war, or military publications, such as are furnished to the Army, in addition to those issued under the provisions of this Act, at the price at which they are listed for issue to the Army, with the cost of transportation added, and funds received from such sales shall be credited to the appropriations to which they belong and shall not be covered into the Treasury, but shall be available until expended to replace therewith the supplies sold to the States and Territories and to the District of Columbia in the manner herein provided.

SEC. 18. That each State or Territory furnished with material of war under the provisions of this or former Acts of Congress shall, during the year next preceding each annual allotment of funds, in accordance with section sixteen hundred and sixty-one of the Revised Statutes as amended, have required every company, troop, and battery in its organized militia not excused by the governor of such State or Territory to participate in practice marches or go into camp of instruction at least five consecutive days, and to assemble for drill and instruction at company, battalion, or regimental armories or rendezvous or for target practice not less than twenty-four times, and shall also have required during such year an inspection of each such company, troop, and battery to be made by an officer of such militia or an officer of the Regular Army.

SEC. 19. That upon the application of the governor of any State or Territory furnished with material of war under the provisions of this Act or former laws of Congress, the Secretary of War may detail one or more officers of the Army to attend any encampment of the organized militia, and to give such instruction and information to the officers and men assembled in such camps as may be requested by the governor. Such officer or officers shall immediately make a report of such encampment to the Secretary of War, who shall furnish a copy thereof to the governor of the State or Territory.

SEC. 20. That upon application of the governor of any State or Territory furnished with material of war under the provisions of this Act or former laws of Congress, the Secretary of War may, in his discretion, detail one or more officers of the Army to report to the governor of such State or Territory for duty in connection with the organized militia. All such assignments may be revoked at the request of the governor of such State or Territory or at the pleasure of the Secretary of War.

SEC. 21. That the troops of the militia encamped at any military post or camp of the United States may be furnished such amounts of ammunition for instruction in firing and target practice as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, and such instruction in firing shall be carried on under the direction of an officer selected for that purpose by the proper military commander.

SEC. 22. That when any officer, noncommissioned officer, or private of the militia is disabled by reason of wounds or disabilities received or incurred in the service of the United States he shall be entitled to all the benefits of the pension laws existing at the time of his service, and in case such officer, noncommissioned officer, or private dies in the service of the United States or in returning to his place of residence after being mustered out of such service, or at any time, in consequence of wounds or disabilities received in such service, his widow and children, if any, shall be entitled to all the benefits of such pension laws.

SEC. 23. That for the purpose of securing a list of persons specially qualified to hold commissions in any volunteer force which may hereafter be called for and organized under the authority of Congress, other than a force composed of organized militia, the Secretary of War is authorized from time to time to convene boards of officers at suitable and convenient army posts in different parts of the United States, who shall examine as to their qualifications for the command of troops or for the performance of staff duties all applicants who shall have served in the Regular Army of the United States, in any of the volunteer forces of the United States, or in the organized militia of any State or Territory or District of Columbia, or who, being a citizen of the United States, shall have attended or pursued a regular course of instruction in any military school or college of the United States Army, or shall have graduated from any educational institution to which an officer of the Army or Navy has been detailed as superintendent or professor pursuant to law after having creditably pursued the course of military instruction therein provided. Such examinations shall be under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War, and shall be especially directed to ascertain the practical capacity of the applicant. The record of previous service of the applicant shall be considered as a part of the examination. Upon the conclusion of each examination the board shall certify to the War Department its judgment as to the fitness of the applicant, stating the office, if any, which it deems him qualified to fill, and, upon approval by the President, the names of the persons certified to be qualified shall be inscribed in a register to be kept in the War Department for that purpose. The persons so certified and registered shall, subject to a physical examination at the time, constitute an eligible class for commissions pursuant to such certificates in any volunteer force hereafter called for and organized under the authority of Congress, other than a force composed of organized militia, and the President may authorize persons from this class, to attend and pursue a regular course of study at any military school or college of the United States other than the Military Academy at West Point and to receive from the annual appropriation for the support of the Army the same allowances and commutations as provided in this Act for officers of the organized militia: Provided, That no person shall be entitled to receive a commission as a second lieutenant after he shall have passed the age of thirty; as first lieutenant after he shall have passed the age of thirty-five; as captain after he shall have passed the age of forty; as major after he shall have passed the age of forty-five; as lieutenant-colonel after he shall have passed the age of fifty, or as colonel after he shall have passed the age of fifty-five: And provided further, That such appointments shall be distributed proportionately, as near as may be, among the various States contributing such volunteer force: And provided, That the appointments in this section provided for shall not be deemed to include appointments to any office in any company, troop, battery, battalion, or regiment of the organized militia which volunteers as a body or the officers of which are appointed by the governor of a State or Territory.

SEC. 24. That all the volunteer forces of the United States called for by authority of Congress shall, except as hereinbefore provided, be organized in the manner provided by the Act entitled "An Act to provide for temporarily increasing the military establishment of the United States in time of war, and for other purposes," approved April twenty-second, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight.

SEC. 25. That sections sixteen hundred and twenty-five to sixteen hundred and sixty, both included, of title sixteen of the Revised Statutes, and section two hundred and thirty-two thereof, relating to the militia, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 26. That this Act shall take effect upon the date of its approval.

Approved, January 21, 1903.

A SURPRISE DINNER TENDERED TO MAJ.-GEN. CHARLES MILLER

One of the most elegant affairs ever held in the State was the dinner tendered to Major General Chas. Miller, commanding Division National Guard of Pennsylvania, by the members of his staff. This was held on the evening of January 16th, under canvas ingeniously arranged in the banqueting room of the Harrisburg Club. The affair was a thorough surprise to the Division Commander, who firmly believed that the dinner arranged was for the retiring Commander-in-Chief, and that he and his staff were tendering the same. Until the Major General was seated at the table and pulled the menu Card from its envelope, he had no thought whatsoever that it was a dinner held in his honor. The complete fair leather horse equipment, which appears in the lower right hand corner of the frontispiece illustration, was the Major General's present to Governor Stone, and was equally as much a surprise to the Governor as the dinner was to the General. The great feature of the evening however, was to come. Major Lewis E. Beitler, with his usual forethought and ingenuity, had selected a present for General Miller, coming from the members of his staff as a mark of esteem and appreciation in which they hold their chief. The gift is one of the most perfect and one of the largest Himalaya tiger skins that has ever come into this country. It is superbly mounted entire (head, tail and claws complete, being 11 ft. in length from tip to tip and perfectly marked). When this was brought in by several non-commissioned officers General Miller was simply astounded and for several minutes unable to give expression. The menu card is a beautiful and artistic design as shown above, and the dishes were arranged with great finesse, particularly the LeChevreau Angora A La Bellefonte. The participants reading from left to right show seated Major Foster, Major Miller, Lt. Col. Richardson, Adj. General Stewart, Governor Stone, Major General Miller, Lt. Col. Elliott, Lt. Col. Curtin, and Lt. Col. Penny. The rear row standing, reading from left to right, shows Quarter-Master Sergeant Hicks, Governor's Private Secretary Gerwig, Division Quarter-Master Sergeant Rise, Major Beitler, Lt. Col. Weaver, and Lt. Col. Seldon (Lt. Col. Loree being absent because of death in his immediate family and Lt. Col. Oakford because of sickness in his family). Major General Miller wore on this occasion a beautiful gold mounted and finely etched presentation sword, a gift from the members of his Bible class.

FORMATION OF THE STATE NATIONAL GUARD ASSOCIATION

CITY HALL, PHILADELPHIA, JANUARY 14, 1903.

The call for this meeting has been issued under a resolution of the National Guard Association of Philadelphia, acting through its Executive Committee, and with your assembling the duties which have devolved on that Committee cease. It is for those who have met here to determine whether it is desirable to take any action on the lines indicated in the circular you have received. The call for this meeting was issued only after many informal expressions had been heard favoring the forming of an Association representing all the interests of our service.

It is for you to consider and determine whether there should be an Association formed and if formed what should be the scope and character of its work.

The reasons in support of the forming of such an Association are many. In the first place we in the National Guard are doing a great voluntary work which absorbs much of our time and interest, but we have had no opportunity for conferring together about it, and in that we are lacking the means which people interested in public and private affairs, in professional and business and charitable and religious work, on all sides of us, have found to be the stimulus to greater and better effort. Then, too, we have but rarely the opportunity to meet face to face those engaged in similar work away from our immediate localities, and, lacking as well the time for formal conference on topics of mutual interest, we have missed the chance of forming ties of friendship that should abound among those wearing the same uniform and held by close allegiance in the public service. Speaking for myself I may say that in the engrossing duties of a division camp I have rarely had the time for conferring with officers of other organizations, and that out of the entire roster there are few officers outside the First Brigade whom I have ever had the opportunity of meeting. Yet the efficiency of the service and the pleasure of serving the State as we do must be greatly enhanced by knowing one another.

But beyond conferring and meeting together there is an ample field in which we can by some common action really accomplish something from time to time. Just now there are things which the General Assembly can do for us. I shall not attempt to enumerate them, but to sustain my position I think I need only refer to the pressing need for proper armory facilities throughout the State, and to the changes which may be needed to make our military code conform to the Dick Militia bill now before Congress, which will it is hoped soon become a law and afford a modern system of really national scope in place of the antiquated and obsolete militia laws of 1794. This reform has been recommended by the President and cordially endorsed by the citizen soldiery of the United States. I must also refer to the generous encomium of the National Guard contained in the recent message of the Governor in which he gave this advice to the people of Pennsylvania:

"The National Guard is in the highest degree worthy of the support and encouragement of every patriotic citizen, and the most thoughtful and liberal consideration of the General Assembly."

I know that it may be objected that we go outside of our line of duty in meeting to discuss military topics and to express approval or disapproval of proposed legislation. If such an objection is raised, let it be fully discussed and disposed of. But for my part I see the greatest propriety in our doing all of that.

There are many things in ordinary National Guard lines both in practice and in theory in which instruction and discussion would be most acceptable and profitable and in the general range of military science outside the formalities of drill and the incidents of camp life we have a field as yet almost untouched in our State service. As to legislation the privilege has never been denied to our officers to express their views at any time or in any place, and it follows that the giving of the collective views of experienced officers, who have reflected and conferred on proposed legislation will of course be proper and will be both helpful and acceptable to the representatives who are to vote upon such legislation.

I take, too, the broad ground that those who devote without compensation so much time, as do the members of the Guard, to the public service, are entitled to a liberal application in matters concerning military legislation, of the good old American principle that a sound government rests on the consent of the governed.

If objection is made that discussion by officers may lead to things being said which are in violation of discipline, I need only say that I do not believe that that will occur. If it does ever occur, the means of correction are efficient and readily applied. It would be well if in formal language a rule could be devised to send to the rear all who have mere grievances or cheerless criticisms to offer or personalities to indulge in, though I do not foresee that such a rule would be more than a caution that such Association is only to be used for unselfish, helpful effort. With a splendid military system in Pennsylvania, much has already been accomplished for the good of the National Guard and unstinted praise has been bestowed upon it by the highest critics. But more should be done by this great Commonwealth for the National Guard in a material way (for Pennsylvania in this respect is not in the lead) and every effort should be made to bring our citizens, of all sections and of all occupations into thorough sympathy with the ideals for which our citizen soldiers have been striving, and to a realization of the place of our volunteer military organizations in sustaining popular government. Partly as a means and partly as an end our officers should be brought into touch and comradeship.

If you think it is feasible to do some or all of these things the opportunity is now afforded to form an Association which may be the means of accomplishing a vast amount of good to the State and Nation and to perpetuate the militia system which has stood so often and so long for liberty and justice.

DURING the late tour of riot duty in the coal regions there was no employer who was so unreasonable in his demands for the return of men who were doing military duty as Uncle Sam. While private individuals, firms and corporations willingly put up with the necessary inconvenience and were very reasonable in their requests for occasional furloughs for their employees for short periods, the United States post office authorities made the most constant and unreasonable demands for the immediate return of men employed in the handling and distribution of mail, regardless of the fact that ample provision is made by law for substitutes. This became so annoying prior to the calling out of the division that General Gobin seriously considered recommending the forbidding of enlisting any man who was employed in any capacity by the post office department, and the refusal in the future to commission any man who may be so employed. The matter was brought to the attention of President Roosevelt. If there is one employer above another who should stand by the members of the National Guard under such circumstances it is the United States Government. When its employees are called upon to assist in preserving order, in quelling riot, in doing duty as soldiers for their respective States, the government which calls upon the people of those States to respond to calls most patriotically should be the last to lend her assistance to the State when a few of her men are needed. But some postmasters are not built that way and some superintendents are sufficiently narrow minded to seek to impair the efficiency of a military force at such a time by endeavoring to compel the return of some of its members. The State of Pennsylvania should take up the matter with the Attorney General of the United States and have a ruling made in the matter at once. If the law is with these most unpatriotic postmasters and superintendents (and the title to the office is spelled with a lower case letter because the men themselves are smaller than the letters) it is time the military authorities knew it so that no more should be taken into the ranks.

Doctor Harry B. Burns, of Pittsburgh, has been recommended to the Surgeon General as an Assistant Surgeon attached to Battery B, vice Lieut. A. L. Russell, resigned.

Obituary.

Major John M. B. Ward, surgeon of the 6th Infantry, who was accidentally killed by falling into the hold of a vessel while discharging his duty as a U. S. quarantine official, was a very efficient medical officer, highly respected and popular throughout the command. He was buried with military honors in the city of Chester on Monday, Jan. 26th. The field, line and staff of the 6th Infantry attended in full uniform, and the funeral escort comprised Companies B and C, accompanied by a full brass band and field music. Major Ward first entered the National Guard service as a private in Company B, March 30th, 1881. Discharged March 30th, 1886. He was appointed Assistant Surgeon June 29th, 1894. Commission expired June 10th, 1899. Appointed captain, Medical Department, July 31, 1899, and Surgeon Major July 30th, 1900. For seven years he served in the U. S. Marine Hospital Reserves. Assistant Surgeon of the 6th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry May 5th, 1898. Was mustered out with the regiment Oct. 17th, 1898.

Captain William Ewing, a former commander of Co. B, 1st Infantry, died on Monday, January 19th, at the Elk's Home. He was buried with military honors on the Friday following, many of the officers of the regiment attending and a detail of his old company acted as funeral escort. Captain Ewing during the eighties was one of the popular and indefatigable officers of the 1st Infantry and his sterling worth was recognized by his superiors. The older members of the Guard will recall the high standard of efficiency his company attained. He was one of the few company commanders in the entire division that had so trained his men as to be able to go through the school of the company by sound of the trumpet, which he personally tooted on their drill nights.

The Field and Staff of the Fifth Regiment, N. G. P., attended the funeral of former Governor D. H. Hastings, at Bellefonte, Tuesday, January 13.

NOTES

There have been five resignations in the Twelfth Regiment during the past six weeks.

Col. Theo. Burchfield, former commander of the Fifth Regiment, is now a watchman in the State Library building at Harrisburg.

The company work in the Second Infantry is confined to the inspection drill and is conducted under the personal supervision of the Majors.

The county commissioners of Lycoming county have named Lieut. Edward Lyon, Assistant Surgeon of the Twelfth Regiment, as county physician.

The alterations of the Hunt Armory are nearing completion, and the members of Hampton Battery B expect to start active work by the first of February.

As Governor Stone's Staff proceeded from the Lochiel Hotel to the Capitol, the crowd lustily cheered Colonel Chas. C. Pratt, believing him to be Attorney General Elkin. Colonel Pratt received the "ovation" modestly.

The theatrical benefit of the Second Infantry at the Grand Opera House, during the play of Shenandoah, proved quite a financial success, and Lieut. Colonel Hartung deserves great credit for the successful management of the affair.

It is stated upon good authority that two company commanders in the first battalion of the Twelfth Regiment have forwarded their resignations, but at the request of Colonel Clement have withdrawn them until after the spring inspections.

The Altoona Guard situation is very quiet at the present time. Company C, of the Fifth Regiment, together with the hospital corps, the only part of the regiment now located in this vicinity, are beginning the preparatory work for the spring inspection.

Major Clarke, Inspector of the Third Brigade, has established a system of rotation whereby the regiments of that brigade take regular turns at being the first to be inspected. The Twelfth and Thirteenth have had their turn and the Fourth will be the first up this year.

A blotting pad at the Lochiel Hotel was ingenuously made into a placard on which was inscribed, "There is a 'Flood' here but no 'Seltzer.'" This bit of humor applies to two popular members of the Governor's Staff, Colonel Ned Arden Flood and Colonel A. Frank Seltzer, the latter was unavoidably absent.

The Twelfth Regiment has lost two of its best Second Lieutenants, whose resignations, for business reasons, have been forwarded. Lieutenant Howard Galbraith, of Company I, Williamsport, has been connected with the regiment for fifteen years, and Lieutenant William L. Clark, of Company F, Danville, entered the regiment nearly eleven years ago.

Quarter-Master Sergeant R. Otto Wollmuth has retired by reason of expiration of term of enlistment. That he has not been reappointed is due to the fact that his occupation is of such a character that he could not give the position the necessary attention. He was an excellent quarter-master sergeant and enjoyed the respect of the officers and men of the regiment.

Some amusing incidents happened at the inauguration on January 20th. Mr. Harry Hewitt, of Clearfield county, dropped in to pay his respects to Adjutant General Thos. J. Stewart and incidentally noticed Col. Ezra H. Ripple with several members of the Governor's Staff present, and in a very neat speech congratulated Colonel Ripple, believing him to be Governor Pennypacker.

An effort will be made to parade the Fourth Regiment in Allentown next June, on the occasion of the State encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Companies C. H and K of the Fourth Regiment paraded in Harrisburg on Inauguration Day. The officers and men acquitted themselves splendidly. These companies were selected on account of geographical location, temporarily augmenting the Eighth Regiment to twelve companies in the Provisional Brigade.

When Colonel Wendell P. Bowman of the 1st Infantry found that the inaugural committee had failed to provide food for his men as per arrangement, he assembled the officers of his command and briefly explained the disappointment, at the same time offering them the use of several hundred dollars of his personal money. This is truly characteristic of Colonel Bowman as he is constantly looking after the best interests of his command and the officers and men of the 1st Foot fully appreciate his efforts and swear by him.

The splendid trophy presented by Lieut. Robert R. Miller, Inspector of Rifle Practice of the Fourth Regiment, to the company making the highest score during each season, and now held by Company D at Allentown, has been won by Company A of Reading. The inspections of the several companies of the Fourth Regiment will be held as follows: Co. H, Lebanon, Feb'y 18th; Co. E, Hamburg, Feb'y 19th; Co. C, Columbia, Feb'y 20th; Co. K, Lancaster, Feb'y 21st; Co. B, Allentown, Feb'y 23d; Co. D, Allentown, Feb'y 24th; Co. F, Pottsville, March 28th; Co. A, Reading, April 23d; Co. I, Reading, April 24th; Co. G, Pine Grove, date to be announced in later orders.

The commission of Capt. Harry A. Miller, of Company C, Fifth Regiment, will expire in July of this year, and it is announced that he will not be a candidate for the position again. The question of his sucessor is already a lively one, and the probabilities are that an outside man will be taken up and elected to the vacancy when it occurs.

First Lieutenant Edgar S. Stayer, U. S. A., son of Major and Surgeon A. S. Stayer, of the Fifth regiment, who is assigned to the 18th Infantry, at Plattsburg, N. Y., was with his friends here over the holidays and will leave for the Philippines with his regiment in May. This will be his second turn at foreign service, having been there with the 43d Volunteers.

The public prints for the past few days have contained a reference to the fact that the railroad companies under control of the Pennsylvania railroad were about to allow the men of the Guard, who were in their employ and who served during the strike, a sum equal to what they would have earned had they been at home and making full time. The report reached here, and was thought to be a canard, but it turned out that it was a fact. The local shops and yards were canvassed by clerks, and every man who was in the Guard and out at the strike had his name, company, regiment, and other data taken, together with the time he was away. When the men will receive the money has not been announced.

WANTED.—Copies of Adjutant General's Report for the years 1868 and 1872. A substantial price will be paid for these numbers. Apply "Our State Army and Navy Journal," 1107 Betz Bldg.

A MILITARY WEDDING

Rev. Joshua K. Lloyd, pastor of the Chestnut avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Altoona, and Chaplain of the Fifth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, and Miss Orpha Demaree, one of the most charming young ladies of the same city, were united in marriage at Christ's Second Lutheran church, Altoona, Sunday afternoon, at 2.30, by Rev. A. E. Wagner, Ph. D., pastor of the church. Chaplain Lloyd is deservedly popular both with his congregation and with the regiment. His bride has been an active worker in the Christ's Second Lutheran church and is well qualified to grace the position she has chosen. The congratulations of the friends, in and out of the Guard, are hereby extended the happy couple.
